Former Pine Cone Owner Dies

The Pine Cone has received word that a former owner, Hal Garrott, has died in Los Altos after an extended illness.

Hal Garrott, a native of Chicago, came to Carmel in the late 20's and settled in Hatton Fields.

In 1930 he purchased the Pine Cone and remained as owner and feature writer until 1936, when he sold the newspaper to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Cockburn.

In accordance with his wishes his ashes were scattered over Half Moon Bay and a memorial service was held at the Pilgrim's Haven retirement home, where he had resided since his wife's death in 1952.

Ballot Correction

California ballots show Griffin for vice president following George Wallace for President. Avoid striking out the name Griffin because altering the form in any way wili void the ballot.

In order to have a valid vote for Wallace and LeMay voters must stamp or punch the space opposite Wallace and Griffin and make no other marks. A vote for Griffin is a vote for LeMay.

Standing Ovation For Taeuber And Season Opener by Rachel Morton

A standing ovation was given the new conductor of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, Haymo Taeuber, at the close of its first concert of the season in the Sunset Theater Tuesday

It was an ovation well deserved, for the Austrian-born<sup>3</sup> Taeuber who has conducted and rebuilt orchestras in Vienna, Turkey, Persia and Canada, has rebuilt our own orchestra.

Its performance of Rimsky-Korsakov's "Scheherazade" would have been a credit to a much larger and all-professional orchestra.

Taeuber seemed to "light up" his musicians and they responded with fervor and distinction. He used large gestures in imparting his authority, but he could also impart poetry and sensitive shadings. At all times he was in complete control: an impeccable musician. We are fortunate to have him with us.

The program opened with the overture to "The Magic Flute" by Mozart. After a somewhat tepid beginning, the players soon warmed to their tasks and gave a fine performance.

First real test of the in-by the Carmel School Board last night. The lease is subject to certain provisions relieving the district of liability. The non - denominational private school will accept students in the 1st through 8th grades. Another revision of the new report card system was submitted to the board and it was decided to send the report cards home before the two scheduled conferences between parents and teachers. A long report indicating level placement for the following year will be sent home in June.

A discussion of the value of parent conferences led to the disclosure by Edwin Mc-Curry, principal at River School and chairman of the report card committee, that all teachers agree that they are extremely helpful to the teacher as well as to most parents.

It was suggested that an evaluation of the reporting system at Middle School and at the high school was in order. Supt. Dr. Harris Taylor said that they were considering a pass-fail system in some elective courses to encourage students who do not want to jeopardize college entrance requirements.

Two master plans for the 12-acre Carmelo School site were submitted. It was decided to go ahead with an acre of turf, a bus and maintenance year, and the planting of trees.

Two teacher unions were acknowledged: The Association of Carmel Teachers and the local chapter of the American Federation of Teachers.

The effects of the George Miller Jr. Education Act of 1968 was analyzed and discussed.

Increased flexibility in meeting the varied needs and abilitis of individual pupils was the main result, it was the consensus, allowing for non-graded instruction and for technological change and innovation, and allowing professionals to improve courses of study.

At the high school level there was greater potential for individual instruction by tutorials, reading course credits by examination; and working out vocational courses.

At Middle School level, foreign language is no longer required for grades 6, 7 and 8 but must be offered for grades 7 through 12. Physical education is no longer required on a daily basis, but must meet minimum time requirement. Public speaking no longer has to be a separate semester course. Driver education is no longer a graduation requirement.

NON-JUMPER-Quick Silver II, a huge, crouching frog, was the grand prize winner at the Great Sand Castle Contest held Sunday on the Carmel Beach. Quickie was the entry of HUMP (Homogeneous Union for Monumental Projects), a group of officers from Ft. Ord's 2nd Battalion, 3rd Brigade, headed by the battalion commander, Lt. Col. and Mrs. William Gwalby. Quick Silver I was HUMP's entry in the Calavaras County Jumping Frog Contest, a real loser, and QSII was built as a memorial, although HUMP doesn't specify what happened to I.

CURSE YOU RED BAR-ONESS-Eliza Haskins is up to her armpits in her Sopwith Camel as she searches the skies for the Red Baroness. "Course You, Red Baroness" was one of 375 entries in Carmel's sand castle hassle Sunday. Before the judging was over, Eliza had taken three naps and aten at least a pound of sand, All to no avail. No prize.

PROTESTER — This alleged rabbit, so reminiscent of something out of James Thurber, leers at th onlooker while brandishing a sign saying something about ". . . Please help stamp out campaigns to stamp out campaigns . . ." ad infinitim. An artistic endeavor of Steve Warner, "Affluent Rabbit" won a prize in the advanced category.

SOREHEADS?-The winners of the "Sour Grapes" award at the sand shiveree Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Larry List, who enticed several helpers with food and drink to aid in building a huge pile of sand, but not much else. Grand Sand Sifter Donald R. Brown, right, of the sponsoring AIA, presents the lovely plaque, complete with a bunch of sour grapes made of plastic (sour plastic?) rampant on an abalone shell glued to a chunk of redwood with a description of the howling, griping and complaining that brought the Lists first prize.

MASTERPIECE—Some of the entries in the sand castle derby were truly elaborate and strikingly constructed. This is a jobbie called "Ham-a-Lot," done by Jim Thatcher and Richard Wright.

Sunset Notes

by Dr. James E. Gilman

The film on Hawaii scheduled for showing at Sunset Center on Oct. 27 has been cancelled. Apparently something went wrong with the arrangements necessary to secure the film, but whatever the cause the net result is that there will be no free trip to Hawaii on the 27th. Sorry.

Tonight at 8:15 Ronald Shanin will present the second film in the Explorerama Carmel series with the showing of "Rivers of Fire and Ice." Billed as an "advanture without equal" the film roams throughout Africa in a free-wheeling style in the Frank Buck manner.

Cinema One will present another evening of "Classics of the Avant Garde" on Friday, Oct. 25 at 8 p.m. with the showing of "A Trip to the Moon," (1902); "Conquest of the Pole," (1912); "Judex," (1964) and "Mr. Hulot's Holiday," (1954).

The first two films were done by Georges Melies who began making stop-motion trick films in 1986. A professional magician, Melies progressed from simple illusions to very elaborate fantasies and fairy-tale spectacles.

"Judex" is set in the chateau country of France in 1914. It is the story of a banker who is plagued by the mysterious Judex for his past misdeeds while his beautiful daughter falls in love with him. It is a strange mixture of fantasy, humor and science fiction.

Jacques Tati directed and starred in "Mr. Hulot's Holiday." Done mostly in pantomine in the Chaplin tradition, Tati plays the eccentric, bungling but bentle bachelor who keeps thinks in constant chaos at a French summer resort.

Tilckets for both performances are available at the Central Box Office (May Court) Carmel. Phone 624-

By all means see th photographic exhibit at the Friends of Photography at the Center. The Color Polaroid pictures by Marie Cosindas are absolutely out of this world.

Sharing billing with Miss Cosindas is Dr. George Schumacher's collection of black and white Polaroid photography of the Mother Lode and Sierra Nevada country.

The show is open to the public daily from 1 to 4 p.m. except on Monday Don't miss it.

George S. Kaufman's "First Lady" will open at Sunset on Nov. 8 at 8:30 p.m. Produced and directed by Sid Frohman, it is the story of presidential election high jinks. Ruth McElroy, Betty Fowlston, Ginny Frank and Bob Heater have leading roles in this hilarious comedy.

Other performances are scheduled for Nov. 9, 15 and 16 at 8:30. Matinees will be offered on Nov. 10 and 11 at 2:30 p.m.

All proceeds will be donated to the Carmel chapter of the National Council on Alcoholism. For reservations call 624-2256.

complete accord with the season and its Rise of the Great Pumpkin.

And what else was it all? A time to construct shimmering towers from silica sand — castles housing dreams, happy villages with gay banners flying.

That wasn't a living infant's head rising out of a sand effigy, framed with a halo of coat-hanger wire it was the father himself on a beautiful flight of fancy.

The chimeras of the sand were real not imagined, and you could stick real driftwood swords into their scaly hides.

That mammoth frog would have leaped right over you and made a terrific splash in the sea if it hadn't a smile emplaced on its face. It was too happy to leave-or maybe it was an enchanted Prince awaiting a Princess to kiss it.

Those gigantic feet on the shore were from happy beachcomber giants who had just passed this way shortly before.

And Nature's weather was there with bright sun and a mystically flowing veil of fog providing the proper setting for this lost Atlantis rising out of the thundering surf.

This is youth with its beaubeautiful, healthy dreams . . . its artistic expression of living . . . of just living and loving.

Of just truly being!

There are no emotional burn-outs here — no world so great it can't be conquered. These are the ageless youths who are building sand castle dreams into the world we have and towards the even better goals we all want.

It starts here — the dreams, the love, the togetherness the bare feet and hands dugs into Nature. These are the Flower Children . . the ones who will give us the bright new world!

On October 26, The Perry House Gallery of Fine Arts will open an exhibit of Abel G. Warshawsky's paintings.

These have been in the collection of Warshawsky's wife Ruth since his death in 1962.

Abel Warshawsky was born in Sharon, Pa., had a home in France and lived the last 20 years of his life here on the Monterey Peninsula.

He had been awarded the French decoration of the Legion of Honor and the French government had purchased painting by him for the Luxembourg Museum and the Petit Palais in Paris.

His works are in the permanent collections of numerous American art museums.

A quotation of Benjamin De Cassere's is very descriptive of this artist's work: "Whether Warshawsky is painting a Breton peasant, a corner of Paris, a nude woman, or a clip of landscape in the south of France, he sings a paean to Life. For vividness, color, subtle uses of light, and, above all, perfect balance in composition, I know of no painter today who is his master."

Included in this collection are: Taxco Roof, Dark Waters, Lone Fisherman, Breton Girl, La Petit Boudoise, Still Life and Struggle (a Marine Scape).

Harpsichord Leaves

The Pleyel harpsichord which was used in the Bach Festival last summer left Carmel recently when its owner, Prof. Putnam Aldrich returned to Stanford University at the end of his sabbatical year.

Pupil of the late Wanda Landowska, famous harpsichordist Prof. Aldrich, arranged Bach's "Art of the Fugue" for the Festival.

He and his wife have bought a house in Carmel and will return some day to make it their permanent home.

Scientist's First Painting Selected By MPMA Gallery

A previously unknown talent was uncovered by the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art in its recent competitive exhibition.

Paul F. Patchick, an earth scientist, decided to submit an abstract oil painting which he had painted as relaxation from the tensions of his work with the Applied Research Group of the Litton Scientific Support Laboratory at Ft. Ord.

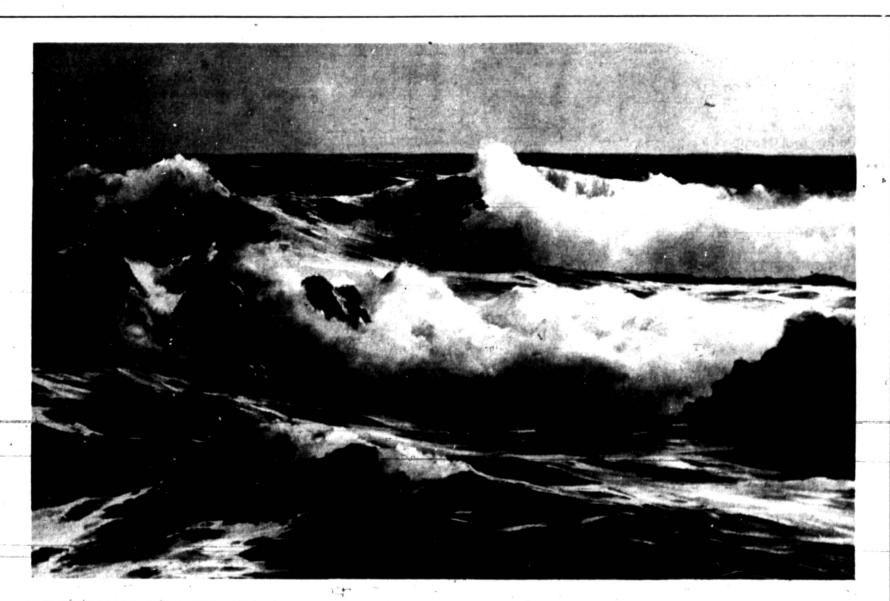

The scientist, now living in Pebble Beach, told the Pine Cone that this was his first canvas, a 40" by 24" alkyd resin enamel and that it was his first submission.

Museum officials and the jury said that a first submission acceptance was rare. A striking composition of brightly colored arcs interwoven with shiny vertical stripes, and balanced by step-like graduated rectangles, it was titled "Unpredictable."

"That's the way the results of scientific inquiry and experimentation often turns out," Patchick commented.

"I painted what I felt . . . my 21 years of scientific background are in that canvas . . . which took 50 hours to design and work out."

The painting and others are on exhibit through Nov. 2 at the museum's gallery on Lincoln Street nar Ocean Avenue.

At its recent October meeting, the Arts Coordinating Council of Monterey County looked ahead to the Monterey County Bicentennial celebration next year.

Mrs. Frank G. Ringland, public relations chairman introduced Mrs. Kenneth Ehrman who will act as liaison between the 24 member organizations in planning events so that dates do not conflict.

Organizations, which fall into four categories: music, drama, visual arts and education, were urged to set the dates of their regular and annual events and for special bicentennial activities as soon as possible so as to take advantage of state and national publicity planned by the Bicentennial Committee.

The outstanding painting is a handsome figure of a woman entitled "Space Age Woman." The billowing concentric circles around her head might indicate expanding thought and give some clue to the provocative title. "Old Ideas," an abstract, has the rich colors and divided areas of stained glass. "Waiting Girl," as well as

Bird Portraits By Lillian Paca Come To PG Museum

"Bird Portraits" by Lillian Grace Paca is the subject of the October exhibition at the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History.

It is made up of 32 examples of fine pastel drawings executed by a lady who considers herself proof that anyone can do anything at anytime if they will just begin.

Mrs. Paca started her art career at the age of 65 and this month will celebrate her 85th birthday. She hasn't decided when or whether she will retire.

The artist is author and illustrator of six books about birds and mammals. The latest concerning sea otters has just been published. Not long ago she completed a book on swans.

The original drawings from this publication are part of the collection being shown. Other subjects are gulls and birds of Peninsula gardens.

Mrs. Paca, who resides at Canterbury Woods, was born in Jamaica and is the daughter of a British Army officer. She is an enthusiastic bird watcher and member of the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society.

The exhibition will remain on view through Nov. 10. The museum is located at the corner of Forest and Central Avenues in Pacific Grove. Hours are 10:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. daily except Monday.

you could WIN a $500 painting for $1.00

The Carmel Art Association has selected Nov. 16 as the day it will announce the winner of a $500 painting as the prize in a fund-raising drive now in progress.

The drawing is being conducted to establish a $1000 art scholarship to be awarded to an art major high school graduate. The art association, oldest on the Monterey Peninsula, is offering the scholarship as a gesture of returning to the community some of the commercial assets that it feels are draining away. Members and associate members of the Carmel art group have been selling tickets for the drawing, for which the prize is any $500 painting by any artist in the association's gallery. Outstanding art students from high schools on the Monterey Peninsula and Salinas will be recommended by their school's art department, and the board of directors of the Art Association will pick the student to receive the scholarship from the list submitted.

Every once in a while you might get a call from someone who's selling something over the telephone. Most of these callers are considerate. But if you've ever heard from a salesman who couldn't take your polite no's for an answer, you know it can be annoying. Well, the thing to do then is simply hang up. If the calls continue, let us know. We want your-phone to be a convenience, not a nuisance.

Maybe you've been surprised to hear your Information operator answering lately in a new way—"Directory Assistance." And maybe you've wondered why the change. It's just this: "Directory Assistance" actually is a better description of her job, which is to help you find a number that isn't in your phone book. And here's a helpful hint: Jot down the number next time you have to call "Directory Assistance" for help. You'll have it handy when you want it, and save making two calls again when one will do.

I sure hope you've circled November 5 on your calendar. That's Election Day Don't forget to vote.

Pacific Telephone Company today cautioned Carmel residents to beware of door-to-door solicitation being conducted by individuals representing themselves as telephone employees.

Pacific Telephone is in no way connected with these individuals, whose exact purpose is unknown, Don Peters, Pacific Telephone manager, said. Peninsula law enforcement agencies have been made aware of the situation and are joining with Pacific Telephone in an investigation.

All telephone company employees carry an official identification card and will gladly present it upon request, according to Peters.

Persons having information on the solicitation are asked to call the telephone company.

Golden People of Hawaii

The Golden People of Hawaii are such a harmonious blend of races and religions it is fascinating to note when the true Polynesians first became the hosts to the many who have come to their shores.

The whalers and the seatraders preceded the New England missionaries who arrived in the early 1800's. But it was in the year of 1852 the first few citizens from China came to Hawaii. Some of them came to help with the harvests. Others followed when they heard of the salubrious climate and the opportunity for a way of life that encouraged more personal liberty.

Regardless of why they came, the Chinese fetched with them their innate good manners and their long heritage of one of the world's richest cultures. Their contributions have enriched the lives of all those who were there and all those who have followed.

One hundred years ago the first Japanese arrived. They, too, came for various reasons. The first contingent were also agriculturists.

The Japanese men soon sent back for their picture brides and together they worked in the fields, built their homes and raised their families. At a time of emergency the Americans of Japanese ancestry proved their loyalty to this country as no other sons of immigrants have ever done. They were our "Go For Broke" boys. They returned from WW II, the most decorated unit our military has ever known.

Their sons and daughters are deeply involved in today's Hawaii. As doctors and lawyers, as educators and legislators, they have shown their loyalty and intellect to be the equal of all others.

The Koreans in Hawaii, although they came later than the others and for a different reason, have also added to the lustre that has made the Golden People so wellknown and envied.

Known as the "Irish of Asia," these peppery ones have added their sense of freedom and independence to our way of life. Perhaps because there are more Christians among the Koreans than any other Asian nation, they readily understood and accepted the missionary attitudes which have become the foundation for a way of life in Hawaii.

Add to all these the men and women from the Philippines. They brought with them the charm and warmth with which two heritages had endowed them. The rich history of the Spanish blended with the sweet nature of these islanders created a tapestry of personalities. Some of the world's most beautiful women are the Filipina. Sometimes called "fiery" and always activists, the men from these many-scattered islands also made contributions of note toward the development and progress in Hawaii.

The continual inter-marriage between all the races in Hawaii has created a Golden People who live in love and harmony in the 50th State, the Land of Aloha!

Check Dick Phinney's Hawaiian Show in this week's "What's Going On" column, for Sunday, Oct. 27).

Czech Group Plans

Newly organized Friends of Free Czchoslovakia will hold a commemoration of that nation's Independence Day on Sunday, Oct. 27 at the Asilomar Chapel.

The celebration, which will mark the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Czech Republic in 1918, will begin at 3 p.m. and will feature films of the communist takeover in 1939 and the Soviet invasion in September, and Czechoslovakian folk songs.

Carmel Travelers

(The Reuben Johnsons have just returned from a six-month sabbatical during which they wrote the Pine Cone of their adventures. We will continue to use their letters as long as they last. In the meantime, Dr. Johnson, an instructor at MPC. will give the second of five lectures on the family's travels at 8 p.m., Oct. 30 at the college lecture forum.)

The west coast of Turkey is very beautiful. Reminded us of our Carmel coastline.

You can't imagine the unexplored areas in Southern Turkey.

We drove off the main road and found areas where you saw many camels and people living in skin tents along the ravines.

The ruins are something. They are now inhabited by people living among them. There are red poppies and many other wild flowers blooming among the ruins.

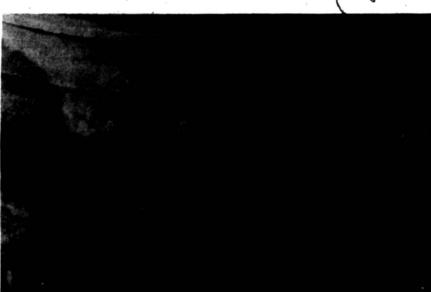

Among the old ruins of Perge we saw the church where St. Paul first preached to the people. The most impressive ruins are those of Ephesus That city must have been magnificent with its long sloping streets of marble.

At the old city of Pergamum (Gergama) we visited the .. ruins .. high .. on a hill. Here is where St. John established a church. It was peaceful to sit among the ruins where red poppies bloom, goats climbing about the broken marble and birds singing.

Actually we were way out in a remote area trying to find the ancient city of Troy.

MIXED FACES-The faces of these three Turkish teenagers reflect the admixture of Asia Minor. The long faces, characteristic of Caucasoid ethnic groups, have the high cheekbones of the Mongols, but lack the Mongolian fold at the eyes. The rugged strength reflected in the boys' eyes comes from living in the inhospitable high plateaus of Central Turkey.

We made a wrong turn in a small mountain village. On and on we went. The road became a narrow trail cart tracks. High in the mountains we stopped at a village. The women were dressed in black, only their eyes showing. They ran into their homes and peeked out from behind doors and windows. The men seemed to think we would reach the ancient city of Troy by continuing.

Finally we came to a wide stream which we had to ford. This we did and on we went. We kept going on-another stream to ford and still a third. Here we used sticks and Rod and I pushed the Volkswagen and we made it. It was so peaceful and beautiful with nothing but animals and birds around. We discovered that we were next to the Aegean Sea so we did turn back.

After three hours of wandering we landed back in the village where we made the wrong turn. Then we took a ferry across leaving Asia. The country on the other side of the Dardanelles is very wild and beautiful. A gorgeously colored red fox jumped in front of the car, in fact I almost had a fur.

We arrived at Thessolonika again and went back to our same hotel.

Start Multi-Million Hospital Wing

CARMEL Oct. 16 — Actual construction of a $3.9 million addition to Community Hospital of the Monterey Peninsula started last week.

The job, expected to take two years, will double the floor space of the hospital located off the Carmel-Pacific Grove highway.

As of today, emergency patients are being rerouted through the main entrance at the hospital since the construction work has closed the regular emergency entrance.

Contracts for the project were signed by Dr. A. Carol McKenney, president of the hospital's board of trustees.

State and federal authorities have granted the hospital $1.9 million to finance the construction on condition that amount be matched by the community. So far, $1.64 million has been raised.

Joseph B. Fratessa, fund drive chairman, said today an anonymous donor has pledged a gift to the hospital's building fund of $100,-000, providing the community raises the last $200,000 by the end of the year.

The addition to the hospital includes a new 32 patient medical-surgical care unit, a 32 room inpatient mental health center, a 10 patient intensive care unit,

Donald Boynton Walker: Carmel resident for forty years, died on Monday. He retired five years ago as manager of the old Carmel Wine Shop on Ocean avenue.

He is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. Milton (Carol) Thompson, and a sister, Mrs. Carol Schweninger, both of Carmel, and four granddaughters. Contributions to the Cobalt Therapy Unit at Community Hospital may be made in his memory.

"Soup & Stew Season"

This is the season for stout-hearted soups and stews, the kind that warm the cockles of your heart. Cockles, according to the dictionary, mean wrinkles, but you know that we mean anything to sustain football

A tail-gate pick-me-up is the perfect idea for those who must travel some distance to root for their team. Select foods that can be transported easily and served quickly from wide-mouthed thermos jugs into lacquered enamel mugs in brilliant col-

The lowered tailgate of a station wagon is the setting. We suggest go-alongs that can be enjoyed out of hand with paper toweling as the only other prerequisite, plus spoons, salt and pepper.

To commemorate the Olympic Games in Mexico, here is the ready made variety of an olympic-

Olympia Oyster Stew

Two cans (101/4 oz., each) oyster stew mixed according to directions. Add 1 can (8 oz.) whole small olympia type oysters. Add 3 T. minced celery, cayenne, bringing pals? grated nutmeg and sherry to taste.

Heat piping hot and pour immediately into thermos rinsed in hot water and fasten top. Serve with oyster crackers. Serves 6.

As youngsters, especially, do not often go for seafood stews, take along this alternative.

Mexican Bean Soup-Stew

Half lb. dry red or garbanzo beans; 21/2 lbs. short ribs of beef; 1 qt, hot water; 4 large fresh tomatoes, peeled and chopped with seeds removed, or 1 large can stewed tomatoes, chopped; 2 onions, finely chopped; 1 cup finely chopped celery; 2 zucchini, cut into 1-inch slices, unpeeled; 2 cloves garlic.

Put into large pot; bring to a boil then add short ribs and simmer, covered, for 2 hours or until meat is very tender. Add more water, mixed with beef bouillon cubes, to keep meat and beans always covered.

Remove ribs and cut meat from bones; discard bones and fat and replace meat in soup. Season to taste with salt, pepper, chili powder. Reheat to boiling and put into jug. Serves 6-8.

To make the above soup more quickly, use canned beans or garbanzos (chick peas), undrained, and 1 lb. hamburger shaped into small balls, seasoned and lightly browned in a little oil. In this case use less water. Season with Worcestershire or Kitchen Bouquet.

Fiesta Biscuits

Two cups flour; 41/2 t. baking powder; ¼ t. salt; 1 cup finely rolled cheese crackers: 5 T. shortening; 1/3 cup. each, chopped onion and green pepper; 1 (2 oz.) jar pimientos, undrained. chopped fine, 2/3 cup milk,

Sift together first 3 ingredients; add cracker crumbs and blend. In small skillet, melt 1 T. shortening and saute onion and green pepper until tender. Cut remaining shortening into flour mixture until like coarse cornmeal. Stir in sauteed vegetables and pimientos; then add milk and stir until blended.

Place by heaping teaspoonfuls on a well greased cookie sheet. Bake in preheated 400° F, oven until light brown. Wrap right away in double duty foil. Just before departure reheat in own foil in hot oven, then wrap in more foil and put in covered baking dish to keep warm. Makes 16 biscuits.

Mexican Coffee

Two cups milk; ½ cup chocolate flavored syrup; 2 cups freshly made double strength coffee; 4 cup heavy cream; brandy or rum optional and only for adults.

Heat milk in saucepan. Do not boil. Slowly stir in chocolate syrup. Keeping mixture over lowest heat, add hot coffee and cream; beat with rotary beater until frothy. Pour into thermos.

At serving add lacing of brandy or rum at your discretion. Sprinkle with cinnamon or use cinnamon sticks as muddlers. Serves 6. For children, plain hot cocoa, with marshmallows added later, is mandatory. Bring plenty of cookies.

Speaking of youngsters, as Hallowe'en is almost here, how about having a hot cauldron of witch's brew waiting for them when they return from their spooky rounds

Hallowe'en Potpourri

One T. butter, 2 whole cloves, minced; 11/2 t. cinnamon; ½ t., each, salt and ground ginger; 1 (13½ oz.) can chicken broth; 6 canned apricot halves, chopped; 2 T. finely chopped sweet pickles; ½ cup mandarin oranges, cut up, canned and undrained; 1 (2 oz.) can pimientos, sliced, undrained; 3 T. cornstarch; 2 T. lemon juice; 1 cup seedless raisins. soaked; 1 cup cranberry juice, 4 cups apple juice, sugar. Serves 8-10 in mugs or foam cups with handles.

Heat butter in black Dutch oven. Add cloves and cook briefly. Add next 3 ingredients and mix until smooth, then blend in next 5 items. Cover and simmer 15 minutes, stirring often.

Blend cornstarch with lemon juice and add to hot (not boiled) mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes just to a boil. Add raisins, juices, sugar to taste. Keep hot on electric tray.

Children are usually beanand-frank enthusiasts. Hot Dog Bean Soup is decidedly their own kind of treat and no trick at all for them to prepare themselves. It's a hearty fun-to-eat soup thick with tender pea beans and little slices of all-meat hot They'll enjoy its tempting flavor as is, so have a can opener on hand and mugs. Or let them rave over this zipped-up version which you have perpared and kept hot in the same witch's cauldron (black Dutch oven with handle.).

Zesty Hot Dog Bean Brew Two T. chopped green pepper; 2 T. butter; 2 cans (11 oz., each,) condensed hot dog bean soup with 2 soup cans water; 1 cup chopped canned tomatoes; sugar to taste.

Saute green pepper in butter in Dutch oven, Gradually stir in rest of ingredients. For older children, add minced garlic and onion. Heat and stir into mugs. Serves 6-8.

Election workers and TV viewers will cast their vote for any one of these soupstews, excepting, perhaps, the fruit potpourri which is special for the Hallowe'en gang. Don't forget crackers and nuts for nibblers.

By Ginnie Bosso

If you think a 30-year-old movie can't be as fresh and interesting as one made yesterday, think again.

"Gone With The Wind" is playing at the Regent Theater in Monterey, and I saw it for the fifth or sixth time. I really can't remember.

But it's still as fresh, swift-paced, action-packed. fascinating (and all the other cliches that Hollywood uses to describe its products) as the first time I saw it.

It has been updated as far as color and sound are concerned, but the masterful performances of the actors still remain as absorbing as when the picture was made nearly 30 years ago.

The dialogue is crisp, even by modern standards, and the only criticism that anyone could make of this classic is that some of its comes so rapidly that my untuned ear failed to pick it up.

Margaret Mitchell knew the South - its history and its people - and her thorough research of the Civil War period is really what made the book a best seller.

The movie producers did an outstanding job in translating Mitchell's book to the screen, and the history contained in "Gone With The Wind" is so accurate that it could well be a project for a class in American history.

GWTW is romance. You could almost say that it's a woman's picture. The only thing that saves it from being is Clark Gable.

But more than anything,

Gable, of course, was unique. An actor who epitomized romance for women, and was admired for his masculinity by men.

His presence and performance saves BWTW from being attractive only to women, and I'm sure he accounts for the sprinkling of men in the Regent's audi-

Don't miss it!

Movie Review

No Way To Treat A Lady -Rod Steiger is cast as a strangler of old ladies, and he romps in a variety of disguises and accents. Gruesomely great.

The Odd Couple—Comedy by Neil Simon, one of America's better comedy playwrights. Delightful spoof of marriage and non-marriage.

2001, A Space Odyssey — Science fiction beginning with the dawn of man to space travel, mostly the latter. Exciting drama.

Rachel, Rachel - Joanne Woodward is directed by her husband, Paul Newman, making his debut in this art form. Outstanding acting, and brilliantly directed.

West Side Story-One of the greatest musicals ever filmed. Music by Leonard Bernstein. Robert Wise and Jerome Robbins co-directed. Won 10 Academy Awards.

The Sweet Ride - Pete Rugolo's music makes this an outstanding film. Plot deals with dropouts of all kinds. Rugolo's music, however, is worth the admission price.

The Boston Strangler — Tony Curtis and Henry Fonda star in this chilly film based on the activities of the self - confessed Boston Strangler.

I Love You, Alice B. Toklas - Why is it Peter Sellers just can't turn in a bad performance? This adult comedy pokes fun at Hippiedom and the Establishment without favoring either.

Pretty Poison - Tuesday Weld is probably the most underrated actress on the screen, A drama about a psychopath and a high school girl. Heady stuff, but really Gone With the Wind -Returning to Monterey is this classic American motion picture. It seems unnecessary to state that it is set in the South during and after the Civil War, and that the stars are Clark Gable Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia deHavilland.

Helga—This is a sex education film that is being advertised in such a manner as to indicate that it is erotic and possibly even dirty. Nothing could be further from the truth.

Heart Is a Lonely Hunter -Alan Arkin's silent eloquence as a deaf mute establishes him as one of the screen's top performers, Sandra Lock is great as a girl who loves him.

Theatre Guide

"Ready When You Are, C.B. - Superbly cast and directed, a great vehicle for the reopening of the Circle Theatre. Kudos to all concerned.

Star Spangled Girl-Second in a row here for Neil Simon. Great comedy, great lines. Opens tomorrow at the Studio Theatre, and plays weekends.

The Lady Said "Yes!"

When the Pine Cone classified advertising department phoned a customer and asked, "Do you want to continue your Home Services ad?" the customer replied, "We certainly do! It's getting wonderful results.

Comedy Opens At Studio Friday

"Star Spangled Girl," a comedy that opens tomorrow evening at the Studio Theater, is a play featuring only three performers but the hilarious dialogue is evenly distributed among all three -two young editors of a protest magazine and a dazzling Olympic Swimmer.

As one of Fallout's editors, Beau Stark (Andy) draws on a broad theatrical background. He played the lead role of Tony in last summer's production of "The Boy Friend" at the Studio, following parts in "The Madwoman Of Chaillot," "The Rainmaker," "The Gazebo" and "Harvey" at the Circle.

A founding director of the Presidio Players, he directed and starred in their all-Russian version of "Firebird." He has also performed with the famed Carter Theatre of Abingdon, Va., and has appeared in two off-Broadway shows.

Rick Poe (Norman), the other editor, played Mike in the Studio production of "Wait Until Dark" last spring.

A graduate of the University of San Francisco and now an officer at Fort Ord, he has been active in drama since high school days. His credits include "The Diary Of Anne Frank," "All My Sons" and "Charley's Aunt."

Ioni Macdonald (Sophie) makes her local stage debut in the Connie Stevens role of the highly patriotic Arkansan who deals a near-fatal blow to Fallout and to the friendship between its publishers. She majored in theatre arts at San Fernando State and studied acting with Jeff Corey for two years in Hollywood,

Under the direction of Dave Kirk, "The Star-Spangled Girl" will enliven the Studio for eight weekends. Reservations may be made at 624-1661 or 624-2321, with a reminder of the innovation on a trial basis of the 7:30 curtain Sunday nights only, continuing 8:30 on Friday and Saturday

Christian Science Bible Lesson

"Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.'

This verse from James is part of the Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "Probation After Death," to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

One of the related passages to be read from the denominational textbook is the following: "During the sensual ages, absolute Christian Science may not be achieved prior to the change called death, for we have not the power to demonstrate what we do not understand-But the human self must be evangelized. This task God demands us to accept lovingly today, and to abandon so fast as practical the material, and to work out the spiritual which determines the outward and actual."-Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE RADIO PROGRAM

The title of Sunday's program in the Christian Science radio series "The Bible Speaks to You" is "The Prayer That Heals Broken Relationships." It will be broadcast Sunday morning over station KGO at 7:15, KRML ta 7:45 and KDON at 8:45.

This program tells how many have found that to love, as Jesus loved, with a pure affection dissolves the discord in relationships.

REPORTS FROM RLS

By Peter Meckel

This is the week of "openings and closings",

The first grading period ends — the second begins; the magnificient S. F. B. Morse Fine Arts Center is subjected to the first test of daily use — the art, music, and drama closeup the nooks and crannies that have been their homes for the past several weeks. Mr. Pearsall, our inimitable artist-in-residence, sets-up housekeeping in his charming new apartment and closes his eyes for his last moment of peace before plunging into preparation for the Parents' Weekend Art Exhibition.

It is the week of opening grade cards and quickly phoning home either to "explain" or rejoice.

In the midst of all this activity, our basketball team played its first informal scrimmage against the Navy Auxiliary Air Base - the Navy floated well but wasn't able to sink as many baskets as our enthusiastic and obviously well trained young men.

Paulsen, and Art Lara started for R.L.S. and showed great promise for the regular season. After the first six minutes of the practice encounter, Coach Goodwin put in Jim, Doyle Willis Cook, Charles Nemes, Wes Clark and Jim Kinslow.

These boys put on a fine show and obviously impressed the Navy judging by the way they had to scramble to keep-up.

The most recent soccer game found us up against the Athenian School, supposedly one of the toughest in the league. R.L.S. held them to one goal while Robert Yung scored two and Hok-Yin Leung scored another.

The cross-country meet developed into two runs — one according to league standards and the other to find the Athenian runners who lost their way.

Headmaster Ricklefs returned from the first of his college visiting tours and, following a short bout with the flu, has resumed his duties on campus.

Symphony Ovation

C Major by Beethoven, the soloists were David Abel, violin: Bonnie Hampton, cello and Nathan Schwartz, piano. They call themselves "The Francesco Trio."

There was a time when soloists followed a conductor, but this Trio ignored the conductor. This would have been unpardonable were it not for the fact that these players actually needed no conductor. So at-one were they in their interpretations, in their extraordinary virtuosity and finesse that all else was forgotten. Conductor Taeuber gave valiant support and the orchestral interludes were brilliantly played.

After intermission came a thrilling performance of "Scheherazade." Exceptionally fine was the violin playing of guest concertmaster David Schneider.

So multi-colored is the musical palette of Rimski-Korsakov that only he could relate in music the Thousand and One Nights that Scheherazade, the Sultan's wife, spent in telling tales to dissuade her jealous husband from killing her.

There was shimmering music of enticement; shattering music of frenzy in long "buildups"; voluptuous music of love and finally, a closing reverie of exquisite beauty.
